"Do Not Pick the Flowers" is a common sign in Canada's parks. But in Ireland they read more subtly, "Let it be said of these flowers that they died with their roots on."

Honeymoon At West Coast

Gingras-Houle

A wedding of interest was held at Saint Jean Baptiste church, Morinville, Monday, June 4, when Miss Gergette Houle became the bride of Mr. Maurice Gingras. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Houle of Morinville. The groom is the youngest son of Mr. Emile Gingras of Vancouver and the late Mrs. Elise Gingras.

Rev. Father Briere performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length white sheer dress. Her embroidered veil fell to a small train and was held in place by a seed pearl and rhinestone headpiece. She carried a bouquet of pink and white roses. A gold locket, a gift of the groom, was her only jewelry.

Miss Jean Gingras, sister of the groom, from Calgary, attended the bride, wearing a floor length egg-shell colored gown with an overskirt of yellow net and matching headpiece. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white carnations.

The bride's three year old sister, Marielle, was flower girl, and wore a floor length pastel green brocaded taffeta dress. She carried a small nosegay of yellow rosebuds.

Mr. Hormidas Houle, brother of the bride, was best man, and Mr. Adrien Gingras of Brant, Alta., stood for the groom's father.

The choir rendered several selections and Miss Stella Meunier sang a solo "Ave Maria."

The bride's mother chose a navy blue suit with a corsage of pink roses, and navy and pink accessories.

Following the wedding, a reception for about 60 guests was held at the Club Mocombo. The bride's table was centred by a three-tiered wedding cake. A toast to the bride was proposed by Father Briere.

A buffet supper was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Boissonnault, which about 130 guests attended.

A wedding dance was held at the Morinville hall from which the couple left for a honeymoon at the west coast.

On their return they will reside at Brant, Alta.

Reserve Soldiers Hold Exercise

More than 300 reserve army soldiers, of whom about 50 were from the Vulcan-Champion and Milo platoons of "A" Company, The Calgary Highlanders, participated last weekend in a big infantry exercise at Willow Creek, 10 miles west of Staveland.

Commanding the exercise was Lt. Col. T. R. Gregg, commanding officer of the Calgary Highlanders, and in addition to the Highlanders, elements of the King's Own Calgary Regiment, the Royal Army Service Corps, the Royal Canadian Engineers and 39 Technical Squadron, R.C.E.M.E. took part in the manoeuvres.

Sleeping bags and hot meals were provided for the overnight exercise and included in the exercise were demonstrations in the use of various types of grenades and other weapons and bridge demolition works by the engineers.

Crater Discovery May Lead To Rustless Steel

(War Cry)

A perfectly round lake, photographed from the air in Ungava, Quebec, may have been the bed of it caused by a meteorite having fallen on the spot, and exploding into metallic steam. It is the largest known crater on earth. The Arizona crater has a diameter of 4,150 feet. The Australian crater is 2,800 feet across. But the great Canadian hole at Ungava is 11,000 feet in diameter. Therefore, it must have been made by a tremendously bigger meteorite.

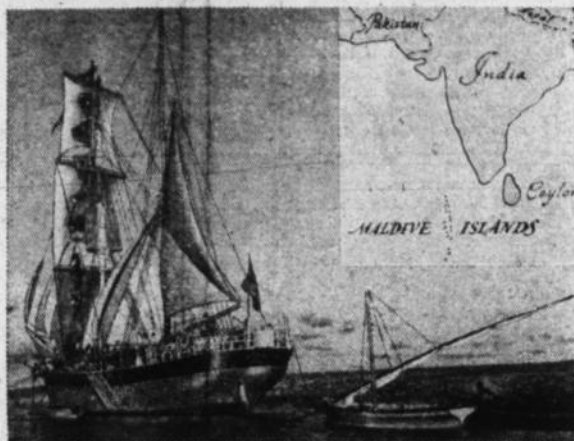

A Canadian scientist can prove whether or not the cavity was made by a meteorite by discovering if the earth surrounding the lake is impregnated with metallic droplets. His ingenious method of finding them is to draw a three-inch magnet through the loosened earth; if nickel-steel particles adhere to it, it is proof.

Readers may feel that the discovery of a crater like the above is of no value, but the secret of non-rusting steel may be the outcome. Particles of metal found around other craters have lain there for thousands of years without rusting. If metallurgists, after examining them, can find out what makes them non-corrosive, it may revolutionize the metal industry. Those who know what havoc rust can work on the body of a car in a few months will appreciate this news.

In 1951 the Canadian dollar has about one-third of its 1901 buying power; in the same period hourly wage rates have multiplied by five.

After sundown it is colder on a desert than in a forest. Sand loses heat while trees hold it.

U.N. Team Risks Lives to Make Health Survey

The "Faith Hul Harl," a 50-ton schooner, served as headquarters of a three-man expedition sent by the World Health Organization (WHO), one of the Specialized Agencies of the United Nations, to make a survey of filariasis in the Maldives Islands. On their return trip the craft ran into a hurricane and the WHO team barely escaped alive. In the upper right: a map of the Maldives Archipelago.

Postponed Due to Storm

Annual Cadet Inspection On Tuesday, June 19th

Postponed from last week due to the snow storm, the annual inspection of the Vulcan Legion Cadet Corps will be held at the Armouries, on Tuesday, June 19, starting at 7 p.m.

Following the inspection and march past, various training demonstrations will be given, and a large attendance of spectators is expected for the parade.

The Cadet drum and bugle band with Cpls. John Hunter and Dave Brooks as instructors, travelled to Macleod on June 8 to play for the inspection of the Macleod Cadets, and the band was highly praised by the inspecting officer, Lt. Col. Davies of Lethbridge.

The boys wish to extend thanks to all who provided transportation for the occasion and special thanks to Cpls. Hunter and Brooks for their untiring efforts which have resulted in bringing the band up to a high standard.

The Cadet Band plans to take another trip out of town on Wednesday, June 20, to play for the inspection of the Cardston Cadets.

GIANT TANKS FOR KOREA

Giant British tanks weighing 52 tons each are proving themselves an invaluable asset on the Korean battlefield. When each tank had covered some 800 miles, hardly a breakdown had been encountered—no mean achievement considering the spring thaw conditions of the narrow and tortuous Korean mountain roads.

C.P.R. To Adopt Standard Rule Code

MONTREAL—The next three months will be school days again, complete with instruction classes and examinations, for 27,000 operating officers and employees of the Canadian Pacific Railway, including 4,700 in the Quebec district alone.

They'll have a new textbook—the 163 page "Uniform Code of Operating Rules"—a revised, universal rule book governing the operating of all Canadian railways coming under the jurisdiction of the Board of Transport Commissioners. The new rules take effect August 26.

Developed from modern railroad practice and years of experience in train operation, the new book is basically the "Standard Code", which is the recognized authority for all railroad rules in North America.

Embracing block signals, interlocking signals, operation by signal indication, traffic control and many other important features looking to the safe and efficient operation of trains, these rules will apply to all persons connected with railway operation, including conductors, engineers, trainmen, firemen, telegraphers, section foremen, interlocking signalmen, and all officers connected with train operation.

The Canadian Pacific has appointed rules instructors on each superintendent's division to assist all employees learning the new rules. They will work under the supervision of region rules instructors. P. W. Rains, of Montreal, rules supervisor for the C.P.R., was chairman of the seven-railway committee that framed the new set of rules which was approved by the Board of Transport Commissioners.

All instruction and examination will be completed by August 26th with employees affected being required to write comprehensive examination papers, some of them totalling up to 1,068 questions, and na.

Attending the wedding from away were Mr. and Mrs. Grant Miller, Frank and Nancy of St. Louis Park; Mr. and Mrs. Ward Huntzinger, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Haugen of Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Verne E. Parson and daughter, Verdie Irene, Harold Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. John Fleckenstein and daughter Sere, all of Fairbault; Miss Elizabeth Lyman of Chicago; Charles McCartney of Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. Koeller and daughter Janice of Vulcan, Alta. Several others were present from Blooming Prairie, Owatonna, Morristown and Kenyon.

T.B. X-ray Clinic Will Be Here For Four Days

The T.B. Association's Mobile X-ray Clinic was a day late in arriving at Vulcan this week, as a result of last week's storm. The clinic came here from Arrowwood, where the power cut-off forced it to stay longer than was intended in order to finish up X-rays there.

Arriving in Vulcan on Wednesday, the mobile clinic will be conducting free X-rays of Vulcan and district residents all Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week and Monday of next week.

Anyone who had an appointment prior to Thursday is asked to drop in at the clinic during any of the four days mentioned above between the hours of 9 to 11 noon and 2 to 5 p.m. A double shift is being arranged in order that those who missed appointments may be X-rayed.

New Oil Test In East District

A large virgin area of the Vulcan east district will be tested by an 8,000 foot hole of the Pacific Western Oil Company, it was announced last week.

Reported site of the new well is about ten miles west of Lake McGregor, being about eight miles west and north of Husky Phillips McGregor, which was recently capped and abandoned after failing to get commercial showings of oil or gas.

Nearest active well to the south is Anglo-Canadian Turin, 35 miles away and nearest to the north is Royalite Crowfoot, about 15 miles away. The location is given as lat. 53-7-17-20.

The well will be in the intermediate area between the deep foothills and the shallow plains further east. The tests are apparently slated for basement, to run the whole gamut of the sedimentary history of Southern Alberta. Pacific Western, a U.S. independent, has nearly 7,000 acres of holdings in the area.

undergo oral examinations before being certified as qualified to work under the new Uniform Code. Each successful student receives a card certificate.

There are different exams for different categories of employees. Conductors, engineers, train dispatchers and other designated employees, as well as operating officers, write the complete and longest test. Trainmen and firemen write a condensed version, and there are also separate exams for telegraphers, section foremen and signalmen, etc.

Up to now, each Canadian railway has operated under its own set of rules, but the new rule book will mean that a man will only have to qualify once to work on any railway that operates under the new code.

But more than that, the new rule book is another forward step in Canadian railroading progress and aims at even higher safety record in operating the nation's railways.

SOME CHANGES IN BRITAIN

(The Fort Erie Letter-Review)

British Government is rapidly withdrawing from its economic policies now proved to be unsound, with great care to avoid any general admission of this change of heart.

Health services are already subject to just a little in the way of charges, with the fortunate result that Mr. A. Bevan is now out of office.

Food prices are being permitted to rise: meat is going up 6d. to 8s. per lb.; tea 1d. per lb.; butter from 2s. to 2s.6d. per lb.; making a total rise of 1s. in the past 12 months; margarine is going up 4s. per lb.

On housing, even the inaffable Dr. Dalton, the great prophet of unlimited spending into unlimited prosperity, has been charged with housing, is trying to obtain a sharp reduction in the size and standards of the Government almshouses, otherwise known as "public housing."

Prominent Figures in U.N. General Assembly

Among the most prominent figures of the United Nations General Assembly, now meeting in its Fifth Session, are the chairmen of its six main committees, shown here with Assembly President Nasrallah Entezam (1) of Iran. The chairmen are Dr. Roberto Urdaneta Arbelaez (2) of Colombia, Political Committee; Dr. Gustavo Outrata (3) of Cuba, Economic Committee; Dr. G. J. van Heuven Goedhart (4) of the Netherlands, Social Committee; Prince Wan Waithayakon (5) of Thailand, Trusteeship Committee; the Maharaja Jam Sahed of Nawanagar (6) of India, Budgetary Committee; and Doctor Vladimir Outrata (7) of Czechoslovakia, Legal Committee.

Learning By Experience

Back in 1945 the Socialists took office in Britain as the result of a long campaign of explaining to the public that profits were the real trouble with our system of society: that, if profits were reduced and wages increased, then all would be well. In fact, at the time, the Socialists did not seem to have any understanding of the value of profits to anyone except capitalists.

Now, the British Labor Party has published a little pamphlet called "This Cost of Living Business", in which there is quite a different attitude. It turns out that profits are necessary. Corporations get out of their profits the money which they need to expand and re-equip their business.

If there were no profits, then the money for this purpose would have to be found from some other source. The pamphlet does not mention it, but the only other source would be taxation.

In addition, what profits are left after this process, to be distributed to shareholders, are too small a part of the cost of any item to make much difference in prices. "Even if profits were eliminated altogether, there would still be a cost of living problem."

This is the voice of experience. Perhaps the British Socialists are still Socialist in theory but they at least have learnt something about how the world of business functions.

Indeed, they have learnt so much that they point out that the only cure for inflation is increased production, and the only palliative even for a short time is to stop all increases in wages, salaries and profits, as well as to impose higher taxation.

Do Canadian Socialists understand all this? They continue to argue that it is profits and not wages which cause prices to be high, but the British Socialists, after six years of experience, feel differently about it. —C.W.N.A.

Causes of Irritation

That gale we didn't enjoy on Monday of this week reminded us that there is nothing in this world that can irritate us more than wind, and that includes the human variety. Whenever a gusty breeze comes whistling over the horizon, our blood pressure goes up, our resistance goes down, and what remains of our good nature makes a hasty exit. Even the sound of the wind irritates us; and when it blows dust in our face, our misery knows no bounds.

Actually there are numerous forms of irritation the average individual runs into during the course of a year. For some of us, a dripping tap or a ticking alarm clock at night drives us to distraction. Others can't stand the sound of a stone being rubbed against glass, or a nail being scratched on cement. Then, of course there are every-day irritants like static from your radio, the incessant barking of a stubborn dog, the ringing of a telephone while you are at lunch or when you are trying to sleep, the gravel-like voice and murderous pronunciation of some radio announcers, and car drivers (usually women) who honk their horns every chance they get.

As we have already mentioned, the noise irritant which stands head and shoulders above all the rest for our money is wind. Even though we should live in Southern Alberta for 100 years, we will never get used to it. No, not even if we lived here for 1,000 years. —(Lethbridge Herald).

If a little knowledge is a dangerous thing, where is the man who has so much that he is out of danger?

The Trans-Canada highway is urgently needed as a part of Canada's defence system. Modern feeder highways supplementing the Trans-Canada are also necessary. Federal aid in building and maintaining these highways must be forthcoming. Highways should have a high priority in the government's defence program.

THIS AND THAT BY V.A.C.

Last week I quoted James Russell Lowell, but had I known what the weather man had in store for Alberta I would have been more timely had I quoted Snow-bound, by John Greenleaf Whittier.

DADDY

The neighbors ridiculed his pride,
And on him air their wit;
They watch him, and they laugh at him,
Yet envy him a bit,
As down our quiet street he walks,
With air which seems to say:
"Behold the very richest man
This old town boasts today!"

His youth—mark well the two young rogues
With faces all aglow,
Who clean his hands, and set the pace,
Uncertain, crooked, slow.
The homely, happy, healthy things,
So rosy-cheeked and strong,
Whose laughter holds a gladder note
Than any wild bird's song.

"They grow like weeds—another year
It's coats and pantaloons
They'll wear when walking with their dad
On Sunday afternoons."
Oh, me! the pride of look and tone,
The air which seems to say:
"Behold the very richest man
This old town boasts today!"

To see poor father ill appear.

Divorce seems to be quite a problem for the Canadian Parliament this session. I have a little poem in my scrapbook which contains a good idea for the June bride. I think it would be the best solution to the divorce problem.

WARNING

If you should tire of me, my dear,
Before I tire of you,
Why, I shall weep a few sad tears
As you expect me to.

But if you think that I will sit
Alone, at home, forsaken,
Rehashing tender memories,
You're pretty much mistaken.

I'll make up quite seductively,
Wear gold, perhaps, or blue;
I'll add alluring earrings
That I used to wear for you.

I'll put the drop of perfume
Just behind my ear
That invites a woman to whisper
Things that nudes like to hear.

Oh, I will be my loveliest;
There's nothing that I'll lack,
And then I'll do my darndest, dear,
To try to get you back!

Information Given Census Takers Is Confidential

Information given to the census takers who will be calling at Canadian homes, starting June 1, is required by law to be kept strictly confidential. No fact recorded by the enumerators about an individual or his business may be revealed or published in any shape or form; it may be seen only by officials sworn to secrecy. This secrecy rule applies to all phases of the Census and to every question asked in the census. All information collected is used solely for statistical purposes.

The Statistics Act of 1948 makes very careful provision for the secrecy of Census information about individuals. "Every officer, census commissioner, enumerator, agent and other person employed," it reads, "before entering on his duties, shall take and subscribe an oath." Every person taking this oath declares that he will not disclose or make known anything that comes to his attention by reason of his employment in census work.

To give even more protection to the individual, the Act states that no person, except those employed by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, may see any completed census return or any part of such completed return. Any Census worker or employee of the Bureau who reveals the content of any document—that is, who "violates the oath of secrecy—is liable to a fine, imprisonment, or both.

Information given the enumerators by individuals about themselves, their families or their business must be used only for statistical purposes; that is, it will be compiled with the information given by others into total figures. Individual information may not be revealed for income tax, military call-up, allocation of manpower, national registration, or for any purpose whatsoever except to arrive at statistical totals. Thus the secrecy provision in the Statistics Act assures the individual that the information he is required by law to give will be used anonymously to produce census totals and for that purpose alone.

Quality In The Hay Crop

We are rapidly approaching the time for the "first cut" of alfalfa hay. Of great importance to the grower is the yield, and most farmers give this matter considerable attention. Of equal or greater importance, is the quality of the hay protein. Before cutting starts, it is well to review some of the factors that bring about high quality hay, and the importance of high quality.

Leafiness, rich green color, and fineness of stem all contribute to high quality. The leaves of alfalfa should constitute approximately half of the plant and will contain from 60 to 70 per cent of the protein. This means that your leafy types of alfalfa will be much higher in protein than the stemmy types. Although the farmer can do nothing to increase the amount of leaf in alfalfa, he can do much to prevent loss of leaf by cutting at the proper stage of growth and by a minimum amount of handling in the haying process.

The most common losses in quality of hay are caused by the following:

1. Weedy or thin stands—thin stands cause coarse, heavy stems with low percentage of leaves and permit invasion of undesirable weeds.
2. Over maturity at time of cutting—this causes a low degree of leafiness, hard coarse stems, poor color and considerable reduction of protein content.
3. Weather damage—loss of color and protein is caused by bad weather at haying time. Prolonged wet weather often causes mouldiness or mustiness.
4. Over curing—this causes the hay to become brittle with a very high loss of leaves.
5. Baling and stacking undercurd—hay—this results in heating, fermentation, or mouldiness.
6. Handling during hot, dry, windy weather—this is usually accompanied by a great loss of leaves resulting in a poor quality, stemmy hay.

The best time of cutting to get the optimum yield of high protein fine quality hay, is in the early stages of flowering. Heavier yields of hay are obtained by cutting in the half to full bloom stage but the protein content is considerably reduced. By giving more attention to quality and less to quantity, a much more satisfactory hay crop will be obtained.

Master Farm Family Program, '51
The Master Farm Family program instigated by the Provincial Department of Agriculture two years ago will be carried on again this year. The objectives of the program are to give recognition to farm families who have achieved outstanding success in good farming, homemaking and citizenship. To provide a practical demonstration of farm and family progress and approved practices that bring success. To draw attention to the advantage of farming as a vocation, and to the wholesomeness and dignity of farm life. To set before the rising generation, the higher ideals of agriculture and the opportunities in rural citizenship.

To be eligible for the Master Farm Family Award, the families that are nominated, must be able to fulfill the following requirements; the family must be Canadian citizens. The head of the family must be owner-operator or lease-operator of the farm. The head of the family must have spent at least 20 consecutive years in actual operation of a farm—case of veterans, time spent in the services will be accepted and counted as time spent on the farm. No family shall be eligible to receive the Master Farm Family Award whose standing has been made possible by the receipt of revenue from sources other than farming.

Nomination forms and outlines of the program are available from this office. The nominations must be signed by three neighbors, and be returned to your local District Agriculturist by July 1st.

Provision is made for making the award to five families in the Province. One in the Peace River district, and one each from the four main soil zones in the remainder of the Province. The award consists of a bronze plaque, a sign for the gate to the main entrance of the farm, and a cheque for the sum of one thousand dollars.

All farm groups or organizations directly interested in the welfare of agriculture, may support the program by furthering and encouraging the nomination of eligible families from their own district.

BLITZED HONEY

Heavily blitzed in a warehouse when Liverpool suffered its greatest air raids, a quantity of Canadian honey purchased in 1942 has recently been marketed in England. Because of more urgent reconstruction jobs, the consignment remained for some time literally supporting the roof and one wall of the badly damaged warehouse. The honey survived both the explosion and the elements, and has shown no deterioration or loss of flavour during the last eight years.

Dollar shortages have severely limited the quantity of Canadian honey on the British market in recent years. The blitzed honey was sold to retailers and not to processors for blending with honey from elsewhere. In this way, many consumers were able to taste the Canadian product in its original form and become re-acquainted with it against the time when it is freely obtainable in Great Britain once again.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Editor, Advocate:

In your May 24 issue I read the letter about the poor citizens that live in this country. I agree with that resident 100 per cent.

Another thing which shows the poor citizens of this country is the way they use the ditch for a "junk ground." Why do they have to throw their tin cans, old chickens, turkeys, little pups and any other garbage along the road? "There are town junk grounds you know," but that would take

If there is a law prohibiting this then why aren't the people, whom I could name, fined and made to remove this rubbish?

It will soon be holiday time and if I were these "so-called citizens" I'd be ashamed to let anyone know I lived in a junk ground, and was too lazy to clean it up.

TEXACO

INSULATED

... AND REGULAR PRICED!

On these hot summer days hard-working farm machinery is up against a real heat problem—with crankcase temperatures, for example, up around 240°. That's why many farmers turn to Texaco Motor Oil—insulated against heat!

Texaco Motor Oil is insulated against heat by an exclusive Texaco process. It stands up under high engine-operating temperatures and resists the formation of varnish-like deposits that steal power and waste gasoline.

Texaco Motor Oil in tractor, truck and car engines gives you more power, greater fuel economy and fewer repairs. And remember—you get lower operating costs along with this better engine performance, because Texaco Motor Oil is regular-priced!

Mr. and Mrs. Carman Jordan are the happy parents of a baby daughter, Linda Faye, born May 20th in the Vulcan hospital. A sister for Gayle and Sandra. Congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Puzey and family were recent visitors to Lethbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Granlin, Miss Elaine, Masters Laverne Granlin and Keith Harris were visitors to Lethbridge last week.

Ten miles of telephone poles and wires are down East of town. Many poles are broken off while others just toppled over out of the sodden earth. North-west of town, on lines 6-7-8, there are over eight miles down, cutting off those districts from town, as far as service is concerned.

Word has been received of the birth of a baby daughter, Wendy Joy, born recently to Mr. and Mrs. Don McLaren of Wetaskiwin (nee Peggy Ruggles of Champion). Congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Puzey and family were recent visitors to Claresholm where they visited Mrs. Puzey's mother, Mrs. G. E. Toone.

In the scheduled Wheatbelt League game between Champion and Vulcan, last Sunday, at Vulcan, the Champion nine defeated their hosts by an 18 to 13 score. The sodden condition of the diamond did not make for good baseball and as a result many errors were committed by both teams.

The town and district is slowly recovering from the damaging storm of last Wednesday, June 6. Huge limbs of trees, that had become over burdened with wet snow, were broken off. Shrubs and high caragana windbreaks were flattened to the ground and many were badly damaged. Lack of electric power was keenly felt by the numerous householders who depend on electricity for cooking and heating, to say nothing of light.

Mrs. Henry Lebsack is in Calgary owing to the critical illness of her mother, Mrs. C. Befus.

Mrs. E. Siler spent a few days in Calgary where she was the guest of Mrs. B. Hummel and Mrs. W. Ellis.

Captain and Mrs. Berglund and small son Randy, presently of Moses Lake, Washington, are guests at the home of Mrs. Berglund's mother, Mrs. H. C. Jopling and Mr. Jopling, prior to being transferred to Panama City, Florida, at the Air Force base at that point.

The Champion Platoon of the Calgary Highlanders participated in the Army Scheme held at Willow Creek, Saturday and Sunday morning. All report an interesting time.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Orcutt attended a family gathering of the Orcutts, last week, held at the home of Mr. Orcutt's niece, Mrs. Orville Webb and Mr. Webb. Present for the occasion was Mr. Orcutt's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Rollins of Portland, Oregon; his nephew, wife and family, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rollins also of Portland.

John Collins of Macleod, C.P.R. station agent at Champion several years ago, is visiting with Franklin Cool for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Patterson have as their house guests their son-in-law and daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. Goodman of Kamloops, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Ulrich and children were business visitors to Lethbridge Monday.

Miss Elsie Gordon spent the past week end visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon, in Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Allan were visitors to Calgary last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Degenstein and children were visitors to Calgary last week. Owing to the storm they remained in the city overnight with Mrs. Degenstein's mother, Mrs. B. Hummel, after starting for home and finding the roads too hazardous.

Miss LaJune Toone of Claresholm was a recent guest at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Puzey.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Nichols and family were visitors to Medicine Hat where they were the guests of Mr. Nichols' parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Nichols, and joined Mr. Nichols' sister, Miss M. L. Nichols, who is home on a visit from the coast.

Miss Gerda Jacobson spent the weekend in Calgary with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. Jacobson.

Miss M. Barber was a weekend visitor to Lethbridge where she was the guest of friends.

Ruth Brett of Vulcan spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Brett.

Dale Lusk of Lethbridge spent Sunday visiting friends in town.

Mrs. P. Larkins has returned home after being a patient in the Carmichael hospital for a week and is feeling much better now.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Doyle have returned home after spending the past ten days in Calgary.

A family gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Maronde last Saturday. Their daughters and husbands and families were present to mark the occasion of Mr. Maronde's 76th birthday which occurred a few days previous, June 5th. Besides the local members of the immediate family, were their son-in-law and daughter and family of Lomond, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walker.

E. Knudtson has returned home after being a patient in the Carmichael hospital for the past several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Collison and family of Ensign were weekend guests at the home of Mrs. Collison's mother, Mrs. P. Larkins.

Yvonne Fraser Crowned Queen At The Lions Carnival

The Lions Carnival, which was held on June 1st and 2nd in the Community Hall, was officially opened by Barbara McFarland, 1950 queen, on Friday evening. The carnival closed on Saturday evening with the crowning of the new queen, Yvonne Fraser.

The stage was tastefully decorated in the club colors centred with the throne on which the queen later sat.

Two little flower girls, Cathy Smith and Colleen McGinnis, entered from right and left, scattering rose petals. They were followed by the queen's ladies in waiting, Jean McTavish and Thelma Untinen. Then came the crownbearer, David Hubka.

Frank Burgess then crowned the new queen and presented her with a gift and a bouquet of roses from the club. He also presented bouquets of spring flowers and a gift to each of the ladies-in-waiting, who were runners-up in the queen contest. All three of the girls were attired in light blue evening gowns.

Door prizes were won by Loren Roemmele on Friday night and by Mrs. C. W. White on Saturday night.

The Carnival prizes were a lazyboy chair won by Ed Brownell and a car radio by Harvey Cross.

Names were also drawn for the lucky boy and girl, going to Waterton Lakes National Park. The Lions pay the expenses for a boy and girl each year. Heather Fraser's name was drawn for the girl's name, with Rita Smith and Beverly Burns being the alternatives. Carl Whittle was the lucky boy with Gerald Shafer and Glen Anderson as alternatives.

The Lions voted the Carnival as a decided success. The money raised will be used for community projects during the year.

GROWTH OF CANADA'S POPULATION

Canada's population has more than doubled since the beginning of the century, and has increased fivefold in the last 100 years. When the count of the Ninth Decennial Census, to be taken in June, becomes available, it is expected that Canada's population will exceed 14,000,000 and it may possibly do so by a margin of 100,000 persons.

The population in 1951 of the nine older provinces will be approximately 13,740,000. A century ago it was 2,436,000, and in 1901 it was 5,371,000. Newfoundland's population—to be counted in a Canada-wide census for the first time in 1951—has been tentatively estimated at 335,000. At the turn of the century the population of Newfoundland was 221,000. The largest rate of increase in Canada's population took place during the decade 1901-11, when there was a rise of about one-third. But the largest absolute gain will be in the period 1941-51, when it is expected there will be an increase of 2,250,000 persons, without including the population of Newfoundland. In the first decade of the present century there was a phenomenal growth in the population of the Prairie Provinces, while during the past decade the largest rate of increase has occurred in British Columbia.

There has been a radical shift in the population from rural to urban areas in the last half century. In the 40 years between the Censuses of 1901 and 1941, the urban population rose from 37 per cent to 54 per cent of the total. The city-ward movement has accelerated during and since the war and it is estimated that approximately 60 per cent of the population is resident in urban areas.

Glengarry, with less than 11,000 voters, is the smallest federal electoral division in Canada.

The Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighan is the only former Canadian Prime Minister alive today.

Alberta Weather

By Mrs. Clara Spokes
Queenstown, Alta.

We Albertans may not have everything but I do think our June snowstorm is something unique in the weather line.

Where else in Canada can one boast of pulling green onions and radishes for dinner, from a garden blanketed with three inches of snow. Where else are the ladies shaking snow from the rhubarb before preparing some for a pie?

Well anyhow, it couldn't happen to nicer people.

The Dodge is stuck up by the bridge, spud patch is under water, brooder house is leaking, my kitchen floor is covered with mud, and who cares?

My husband and neighboring farmers are shaking their heads and making funny little clucky-sounding noises.

"Never saw anything like it," they say.

"Too much moisture. Freeze this fall as sure as shootin'," they say.

Then I think back to the years when the grasshoppers were starving right here in this same part of the country. Families were moving out with their worldly wealth and belongings nicely accommodated in a couple of grain tanks, with a cow and perhaps a calf or two trailing behind. It didn't seem possible then there could ever be too much moisture.

In Proverbs, 27th chapter, 1st verse, I read: "Boast not thyself of tomorrow; For thou knowest not what a day may bring forth."

What truly sound advice. As a farmer's wife I have learned the wisdom of this verse in all its entirety. When making plans I have automatically learned to think, if not say, "with the Lord willing, and weather permitting."

It has most certainly helped to make the necessary adjustments from city life to that of the farm.

We had planned to attend the Youth for Christ rally to be held this evening in Calgary.

Four days of rain and snow have made the roads impassable.

Who wrote the song, "June in January?" He or she can get busy now and reverse the title and write another one. We in Alberta will understand.

Remorse and something bordering on guilt can be detected in the voice of the newscaster as he solemnly reads the weather forecast. He shouldn't feel that way.

We Albertans realize the Gods are not angry with us for loving you. They're just sick, sore and tired of hearing us complain about the weather.

"Sure hot today, isn't it?" "Think it's ever going to warm up."

"Hasn't the weather been horrible lately?"

These and many more unkind remarks in regards to the weather have caused them to unleash their anger with a vengeance even the old timers can't recall the equal of.

Oh well, I've reseeded a frozen garden before, and I can do it again. When the snow melts, that is.

Foothills Health District News

If a comparison is made between the number of deaths and the incidence of sickness in an area which is well housed and planned, and one which is poorly housed, it is found that many more people become sick and die in the poorly housed area. In such cases it is a mistake to attribute a low level of resistance, health, and physique to any single cause, but the following factors are common to almost all unsanitary areas and houses—poverty, unemployment, a high birth rate, a low standard of nutrition, and overcrowding. Poverty alone will explain much in the unsanitary area and house.

Thus poverty and poor housing go hand in hand, and when we weigh the factors affecting ill health, there is no doubt, ill health is to a large extent directly attributable to poor housing and a lack of sanitary environment. Thus we see in poorly housed areas an increase in general sickness, general deaths, child and infant sickness and deaths, tuberculosis, communicable diseases, respiratory diseases, rickets, and infectious diseases of the skin.

Lack of natural light and fresh air will predispose to tuberculosis. Overcrowding will add to the likelihood of contracting communicable diseases. The lack of a water supply in a house adds materially to the difficulty of personal cleanliness, cleanliness of clothes, and of the house—thus the higher incidence of skin conditions. Dampness in a house is said to predispose rheumatism and tuberculosis. The lack of sanitary and toilet fittings, sewage, and normal drainage is common. The total effect of the whole on the morale of the family is disastrous, and the height of the ambition of the family falls rapidly.

Thus the necessity for good housing may be illustrated and proved. The remedy lies in good by-laws, housing, and town and county planning. That which is allowed to slip by today, 20 years from now will constitute an almost insurmountable problem. A wise community will, rather than inflict such a problem on its children, insist on satisfactory control. The small towns of Alberta especially, are growing fast and if this matter is to be dealt with at the beginning it will end right. The choice is with us now and will not return.

The following cases of communicable diseases were reported during the month of May: Mumps 11; Measles 5; Rubella 58; Chicken Pox 3; Scarlet Fever 1; Pink Eye 2.

NEM BRITISH SIDE CAR PERAMBULATOR

The combination sidecar-perambulator pictured here aroused considerable interest when it was shown for the first time at the recent British Industries Fair, held jointly at Earl's Court and Olympia, in London, and at Castle Bromwich, near Birmingham. The "Pramcar", as the vehicle is called, can be converted from perambulator to sidecar in a few seconds. Two retractable tubes connect the pram to a specially designed plate on the cycle. The plate can be fitted to any type of cycle, and by pulling the pram handle over from back to front three of the four wheels are retracted leaving only one wheel on the ground. The "Pramcar" is fitted with hood and windscreen, offering baby complete protection, and the makers claim that the combination is less prone to skidding than a solo bicycle.

June Is Shower Month

June is the month of weddings and friends of the bride-to-be find themselves in dilemma as they try to think of a new way of entertaining for the happy girl, of a shower that's different. There are apron showers, linen and china, handkerchief showers, doiley, silver and kitchen showers but the following may be different.

Time Saving Shower

Only the bride among all the assembly of friends is startled by the shrill ringing of the alarm clock. The other guests knew it was going to ring and they also know where it has been hidden (behind the chesterfield). When the bride rises from her knees after finding it she is surprised to find a wrapped gift on every chair. When the gifts are unwrapped they disclose further time-savers like an orange reamer, the kind that fits on a plastic bowl and is so pleased to use when squeezing citrus fruits; a cherry stoner, cream whip, cabbage shredder, a handy ball of string in a container so it can be easily found.

Pantry Shower

Every bride faces empty pantry shelves in her new home and a happy suggestion for a shower is for her friends to bring articles for the shelves. Many friends have preserved fruit, vegetables, jam or jelly and a jar of any one will be a real reminder of the giver. Also acceptable are articles found on grocers' shelves—preserved ginger, canned turkey or chicken, pineapple, canned nuts and coconut. Also appropriate at a pantry shower are cake and cookie tins and canisters for coffee, tea, sugar, etc.

Flower Shower

The flower theme is carried out throughout the flower shower. Songs dealing with flowers are sung, vases of flowers are arranged and cakes are iced in pastel shades. Gifts consist of seeds and favorite roots if the shower is for a spring bride, for later in the summer the plants will be rooted, but there are other gifts—vases, gardeners, watering cans, shears, a basket, gloves, sun hat.

Anniversary Shower

For a few intimate friends planning a shower an anniversary shower is novel. The first gift presented is for the first anniversary and is of cotton. Fifteen minutes later a wooden gift is brought in, next in order, tin, china, crystal and silver.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bell and Bessie and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Neville and Connie spent Sunday at Lethbridge.
